Communicate with the parents in your child's social circles. Let other parents know you are available to discuss various issues in the challenging task of raising our youth today.

ARCH Statement of Purpose

"We are a partnership of parents, school administrators, police officers, teachers, students, and community members committed to supporting families and helping youth form a strong positive self image to enable them to make healthy choices and stay drug free.

Our goal is to assist the community to provide a better quality of individual and community life by working towards the elimination of alcohol and other drug use by minors, helping to increase youth and parent awareness of the hazards and consequences of such use, fostering healthy relationships between parents and youth, and further cooperation between schools and the community."

Party Guideline

Checklist

- When a teen party is planned in our home, there will be no beer, wine, liquor or other drugs served or brought in.

It is illegal to serve drugs, including alcohol, to minors.

I am legally responsible for anything that may happen to a minor who has been served drugs or alcohol in our home.

- Parents will be home and visible throughout the party.
- If a person brings alcohol or drugs to the party, I will take appropriate action such as calling the parents or providing safe transportation home.

- We will welcome calls from other parents who are concerned about what is happening when my teen has a party, what will be served, who will be there, and what time the party will be over.

- If my teen is going to a party, I will not hesitate to telephone the host's parents for the same information as above.

- If I am out of town overnight and my teen will be home, I will protect him/her from friends who may try to persuade my teen to host a party while I am away.

If our neighbors and/or police know that I will be away and have been asked to check our home, my teenager will know that he/she has ready support in discouraging the visits of other teens.
